

Air Rifle Program Facilitator

Volunteer Position Description

When you see the whole, your part makes sense.

As an Air Rifle Program Facilitator, you'll teach basic air rifle skills to Girl Scouts during programs. You'll help girls learn how to shoot safely, cheer them on, and make sure everyone has fun at camp! You'll be certified by GSNEO and the NRA to work with girls who may be trying air riflery for the very first time.

Alone we can do so little; together we can do so much!

As an Air Rifle Program Facilitator, you'll be supported by the Outdoor Manager for Girl Experience and the GSNEO staff.

Know your role. Rock your role.

Here are some of the awesome things you'll do as an Air Rifle Program Facilitator:

- Set up and check the equipment before and after each session
- Teach girls the parts of the gun, sighting, eye dominance, and breath control.
- Give a quick lesson on safety and show how to shoot correctly
- Watch and guide girls as they take turns
- Report any broken or jammed equipment
- Fill out and send in reports after each event
- Make sure all girls in your group are registered as Girl Scouts
- Share ideas to help improve the program
- Understand how to work with kids of different ages and skill levels

Grow your skills, grow your future.

Being an Air Rifle Program Facilitator helps you grow, too! You'll build skills like:

- | | | |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------|--|
| • Teaching and coaching kids | • Managing time | • Helping girls build confidence through new experiences |
| • Staying organized and prepared | • Leading a group | • Being flexible and thinking on your feet |
| • Speaking in front of others | • Solving problems | |
| | • Communicating clearly | |

Great work starts with clear expectations.
